thus, the brain decreases inhibitory ... aripiprazole - a new class of antipsychotic - preventing all activity, it behaves like a weaker version of dopamine itself. this does not result in any weaker action as an antipsychotic, but should lead to improved tolerability. it can be compared to a "thermostat", reducing dopaminergic neurotransmission in situations where dopamine activity is high (psychoses) and enhancing neurotransmission in situations where dopamine activity is ... trademark (galantamine hbr) extended-release capsules - including elements of memory, orientation, attention, reasoning, language and praxis. the adas-cog scoring range is from 0 to 70, with higher scores indicating greater cognitive impairment.
